

Brief Bio: Heidi Martin

Heidi Martin is currently employed as the Transitioning Military Program Manager for the Veteran and Military Spouse Talent Engagement Program (VMSTEP) within the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). In this capacity, she serves as a subject matter expert on all matters related to transitioning military members and provides employment readiness assistance and outreach to transitioning military members, Veterans, and military spouses.

Prior to her current role, Heidi served in the United States Army for over 20 years, retiring at the rank of Master Sergeant (E-8) after completing a combat tour in Iraq. During her military career, she gained extensive experience in all aspects of enlisted and officer recruiting and concluded her service as a senior human resource specialist.

Heidi is a native of Erie, PA, and holds a bachelor's degree. Additionally, she is a certified pastry chef.